Blue Dragon Children’s Foundation works with children and young people in crisis all around Vietnam.

Every day we balance being proactive on issues with being responsive to calls for help. The result is an organisation which remains highly agile and develops organically to help those who need us most.

During this year, Blue Dragon has increasingly focused on assisting children and communities facing the highly complex issues of human trafficking and sexual abuse. This has meant an increased need for specialised services, particularly psychological and legal, and the provision of emergency accommodation and care facilities.

I am pleased to present this annual report on our important and ever-evolving work, none of which would be possible without the support of our friends and partners around the globe.

Sincerely,

Michael Brosowski
In October 2002, Michael Brosowski, an Australian teacher, arrived in Vietnam to teach at a university. Within two months, Michael found himself teaching English to a group of shoeshine boys. More and more children sought his help and towards the end of 2003, Michael and Pham Sy Chung established their own organisation. Within two years, Blue Dragon opened a combined drop-in centre and office. The Drop-in Centre remains one of the only safe spaces for street children in Hanoi. Street children, children with disabilities and children from very poor backgrounds can access teachers and computers, social workers, lawyers, social activities and nutritious food. From 10 shoeshine boys in 2002, Blue Dragon now directly supports over 1,200 children.

Blue Dragon's anti-trafficking work started in 2005, when Michael and a law student volunteering with us rescued a 13 year old boy trafficked from Hue to work on the streets of Ho Chi Minh City. Up to 30 June 2017, we have rescued 396 children from forced labour, the youngest being just 11 years old. In 2007, Blue Dragon rescued three girls trafficked from Vietnam to China for forced marriage and commercial sex work. This marked the beginning of our fight against sex trafficking that continues to this date. As of 30 June 2017, Blue Dragon has rescued 322 girls and young women from sex trafficking.

Blue Dragon provides exceptional care to Vietnamese children and families in crisis while creating long-term change for a better world.

Our Mission
Development, not just charity We work to help children develop fully as they grow, through providing a broad range of experiences and opportunities. Rather than simply provide a handout, we provide a hand-up for those who choose to better their circumstances and themselves.

Empowerment, not dependency Our role is to provide opportunities for children to pursue as individuals rather than to force our views or values on the children.

Collaboration, not control Our staff work alongside the children and their families, so that the beneficiaries are involved in all stages of our work, rather than simply being recipients of charity.

Massive interventions, not quick-fix solutions We tackle the problem of poverty from every angle rather than focusing on one obvious cause or effect. Our interventions may take years, as we persist until we are successful.

Respect, not pity The children we work with are treated with at least the same respect that we would treat our own sons and daughters, brothers and sisters.
Our children come from different backgrounds, but all are in difficult circumstances and need a chance to make a change. We meet children on the streets, at their workplaces, or in their homes, and we support them until they can stand on their own feet, living happy and self-sufficient lives. Our range of services to children includes:

Rescue and Reunion
Rescuing children from the streets or from slavery and reuniting them with their families.

Social Work
Individual planning for the growth and development of children in crisis.

Psychological Services
Individual and group counselling to assist young people with issues such as grief, trauma, addiction, and behavioural problems.

Accommodation
Giving children a place to grow and thrive while they study and begin employment.

Nutrition
Ensuring children are nurtured and provided with a key component of a safe life – a healthy diet.

Youth Engagement
Organising activities so children can develop character and leadership.

Career Preparation
Guiding teenagers and young adults as they choose their career path.

School Fee Relief
Enabling the poorest of the poor to afford a proper education.

Effecting Systemic Change
Training government officials and advocating for legislative reform.

Tertiary Education Scholarships
Offering grants and loans to young adults seeking to attend college and university.

Child Rights Advocacy
Standing up for children when they are victims of crime or in conflict with the law.

Education Support
Helping children to catch up and do well in school.
• Supported 860 children to return to or stay in education
• Granted 81 tertiary scholarships
• Assisted 48 children with disabilities to access rehabilitation, education and job placements
• Placed 23 young people into jobs
• Rescued 104 children off the streets and permanently reunited 82 of them with their families
• Rescued 126 children, men and women from trafficking (8 from labour exploitation & 118 from sex trafficking) and assisted another 10 people rescued by the police
• Provided safe accommodation for 97 street children
• Provided emergency accommodation for 110 survivors of human trafficking and long-term accommodation for 30 survivors
• Assisted 2,270 people to obtain legal registration papers
• Trained 1,145 government officials in anti-trafficking and child rights
• Represented 21 trafficking victims of human trafficking in 10 court cases, in which 20 traffickers were convicted and sentenced to a total of 124 years in prison
• Represented 46 children in child protection cases
• Provided training on anti-trafficking and child abuse for 2,034 parents and carers
Blue Dragon’s work extends far beyond the figures and statistics we collect. At Blue Dragon, we aspire to transform lives, and the changes are often not fully reflected by mere numbers. Below are three stories of children and young people who have strived to build a better life.

Tuan

Tuan never knew his father. He often spent hours or even the entire night at Internet cafes playing games to escape from his difficulties. Due to Tuan’s low self-esteem and vulnerability, he became the perfect victim for paedophiles to prey on. It was not long before Tuan was trapped in the cycle of being sexually abused for money to survive. Blue Dragon provided him with emergency care and support for months before he gathered enough courage to break away from his abusers to stay in a Blue Dragon shelter. Eventually, he adopted a positive outlook on life and came to love himself more. Through youth engagement activities at Blue Dragon, Tuan discovered he loved to cook. He decided to attend a vocational training course to transform his interest into practical skills to build a better future. As a result of Blue Dragon’s support and the opportunity to engage in training for a career, Tuan has grown in confidence and now believes in a brighter future. This is a monumental change and Blue Dragon is proud of how hard Tuan has worked to change his life.

Lan

Lan grew up in a family of six in an impoverished area of Hanoi. Blue Dragon met her and her brother four years ago and has been supporting them since. Lan has consistently gone to school and also participated in various Blue Dragon’s youth engagement activities. She found her passion in hip-hop and has trained hard to be a confident and capable hip-hop dancer. She even performed in public many times. In 2016, Lan was selected to undertake leadership training and is now more active in mentoring new children joining the Blue Dragon dance crew. Recently, she expressed her desire to become a social worker to help other disadvantaged children. Blue Dragon is very pleased that Lan is now able to think about her future career and will continue to assist Lan in building a better life for herself.

Phi

After grade 9, Phi had no plan to enter high school. Blue Dragon encouraged him to stay in school and covered his education expenses. Phi studied hard, understanding that in the long term, education is the key to building a better life for his family and himself. After high school, he passed the highly competitive university entrance exam and qualified for Blue Dragon’s Tertiary Scholarship Program. Phi is in his second year, studying Hospitality Management. Outside the classroom, he is working at a restaurant to support his mother and grandmother. Studying and working means being extremely busy, but Phi is determined to graduate and find a job in the hospitality industry to provide for his family. Blue Dragon will continue to guide and help him achieve his dreams.

Tuan, Lan and Phi are among thousands of disadvantaged children and young people who have been assisted to build a better future. Blue Dragon will do whatever it takes to help them succeed.
Who we serve

Step Ahead operates in Hanoi, serving over 350 highly disadvantaged children and teenagers. Most are street kids or children living with families affected by poverty, drugs, disability, crime or poor health.

How we work

Step Ahead uses a case management model to assist highly disadvantaged children. The core of this model is an Individual Assistance Plan (IAP) created through a process of negotiation between the child, the child’s family or caregivers (if any) and the social workers. The child receives support through counselling, the provision of accommodation, nutrition, material support, school fee relief, and much more. We do whatever it takes so children can escape from crisis and grow into confident adults.

Step Ahead in 2016-2017

• Provided 265 children with ongoing support based on Individual Assistance Plans, including 48 young people with disabilities
• Rescued 104 children from the streets of Hanoi and supported 62 of them to return home
• Provided emergency accommodation for 50 children and long-term accommodation for 47 others
• Supported 109 children to go to school
• Delivered 143 individual and group classes in various academic subjects for 96 children
• Maintained a daily reading activity for 104 children
• Delivered a Career Preparation Program for 65 youth over 15 years old
• Assisted 21 youth to undertake various vocational training courses
• Assisted 18 youth to take part in work experience and placed 23 youth in permanent jobs
• Conducted 10 life skills workshops for 75 children
• Played 221 football games
• Distributed 5,815 kilograms of rice and 664 boxes of milk to disadvantaged families
STAY IN SCHOOL

Who we serve
Stay in School provides education support to disadvantaged children in Yen Phong and Thuan Thanh districts of Vietnam’s northern Bac Ninh province. The program provides targeted support for students in grades 6-12 from financially disadvantaged families, particularly orphans, young people with disabilities and families affected by HIV/AIDS.

How we work
Stay in School keeps vulnerable rural children in school by providing school fee relief and social work support to them and their families where necessary. Every child in Stay in School receives assistance to enrol in, or continue at, school. The program provides all essential school equipment – school bags, textbooks, note books, stationery, and school uniforms – and pays mandatory school fees and insurance.

Apart from direct school support, Stay in School provides encouragement to the children and their families through activities, events and additional support, including:

• An opening ceremony to celebrate the start of the school year (August)
• A Tet (Lunar New Year) celebration (February)
• A ceremony to mark the end of the school year (May/June)
• Bicycles for children who live far from school
• Learning facilities, such as desks and lamps, for families and schools
• Workshops for students on topics such as human trafficking and drug use
• For high school graduates, Stay in School offers counselling and if they wish to pursue tertiary education, they are able to access Blue Dragon’s Tertiary Scholarship Program.

Stay in School in 2016-2017
• Provided direct support to 300 students from Grades 6 to 12 across 14 schools
• Enabled 75 secondary school students to graduate from Grade 9, and 50 high school students to graduate from Grade 12
Safe and Sound (Hue) works with communities and families who have been targeted by child traffickers. The program staff cooperate with the local government and police to rescue trafficked children and bring them home. The children are then supported to live with their families and return to (or begin) school.

The program aims to build a resilient community that is sustainably resistant to human trafficking. Program staff work with families to educate them on the realities of trafficking, with teachers to train them on identifying at-risk students, and with government officials to advise them on anti-trafficking policies. Safe and Sound also provides material assistance to families in need.

Location: Phu Vang, Phu Loc, Nam Dong Districts (Thua Thien-Hue Province)

Rescuing trafficked children and protecting communities in central Vietnam

Who we serve
Safe and Sound (Hue) is Blue Dragon’s child trafficking prevention program for children in Hue province. The three districts we work in are very poor areas of the province where the main source of income is fishing, which is highly dependent on seasons and climatic conditions. These districts are also vulnerable to natural disasters such as typhoons and are affected by flooding almost every wet season. Many children, as well as their parents, are unschooled and illiterate. As a result, these children are particularly vulnerable to trafficking for labour exploitation.

Safe and Sound (Hue) in 2016-2017
• Provided education support for 400 children
• Assisted 73 children with careers information
• Established Early Warning Systems at 13 schools for 473 teachers to identify students at risk of being trafficked or students already trafficked
• Organised 20 workshops for 150 parents and over 300 children on child rights, financial management, and safety from child trafficking
• Conducted 40 life skills training, football and youth engagement activities for over 700 children
• Provided small loans to 20 vulnerable families to assist them to establish small enterprises and improve their economic situation
• Built one green library and one playground for local schools and communities
• Distributed 1,659 brochures on anti-trafficking and child rights for children, parents, teachers and communities
• Provided 22 bicycles for children so they can travel to school
• Provided 375 kg of rice for children and families in need
SAFE AND SOUND (DIENT BIEN)

Who we serve
Safe and Sound works in Muong Ang and Tuan Giao districts of Dien Bien province, home to largely ethnic minority communities including the Hmong, Thai and Khmu groups. People here are highly vulnerable to human trafficking due to geographical remoteness, poverty and their ethnic minority status.

How we work
Safe and Sound (Dien Bien) was established in 2013 to protect and support children and young people in Dien Bien province at high risk of being trafficked for labour exploitation and the sex trade.

The program actively finds and rescues children and young people who have been trafficked, and brings them home. Ongoing support is then provided, including school fee relief, youth and community development activities, a comprehensive range of services for impoverished children, and training for police and government officials.

We aim to assist highly vulnerable communities to be sustainably resilient to trafficking and exploitation, through improving access to education and other government services and upgrading basic infrastructure such as clean water facilities. Blue Dragon is working closely with parents, teachers, ethnic minority leaders and local government to promote child rights, trafficking prevention, and to create strong communities that can protect their children.

Delivering reintegration care and services to survivors of human trafficking

Who we serve

Project X serves girls and young women who have been trafficked and have escaped or been rescued. Nearly all of them were sold into China for forced marriages and commercial sexual exploitation. Most girls are aged between 14-18, while some are in their 20s and above. The vast majority of survivors was rescued by Blue Dragon, while others are referred by the police or other agencies.

How we work

Project X provides social work and psychological support to newly returned survivors of sex trafficking, including intensive psychological counselling, meals, safe accommodation, and health checks. When they are ready, survivors are assisted to return home to their families, or supported to stay in Hanoi in order to access education and training opportunities. Project X provides survivors with the long-term psychological, emotional and financial support they need, encouraging their return to education and financial independence. Therapy features heavily in the program, as most survivors have suffered severe trauma and require regular psychological assistance to aid recovery.

Project X in 2016-2017

- Provided emergency accommodation for 110 survivors after their rescue
- Provided long-term safe accommodation for 30 survivors
- Assisted 41 survivors to access healthcare
- Supported 6 new survivors to return to mainstream education and 8 new survivors to undertake vocational training
- Provided group psychological therapy for an average of 18 survivors per month
- Supported 5 survivors with tertiary scholarships to attend university and colleges courses
Who we serve

Blue Dragon’s Legal Advocacy Department offers advice and representation to any Vietnamese child or young person in crisis who needs help. While the team is based in Hanoi, our advocacy work is delivered throughout Vietnam. The Legal team also rescues children and adults who have been trafficked and are trapped in slavery.

How we work

Legal Advocacy is a service that operates across all Blue Dragon programs, providing legal advice and representation for children, families, staff and management. The department also works with Vietnamese police, border guards and local officials to improve their skills to fight human trafficking.

Legal Advocacy in 2016-2017

- Rescued 126 victims of human trafficking in 60 rescue missions and assisted another 10 victims rescued by Vietnamese authorities
- Provided legal representation in 10 court cases for 21 victims of trafficking, leading to the sentencing of 20 traffickers to a total of 124 years of imprisonment
- Held 12 training workshops for 1,145 local officials and police officers on human trafficking, labour exploitation and sexual abuse
- Delivered 7 workshops to 2,034 students, parents and carers to raise awareness of child rights, human trafficking and child sexual abuse
- Supported 2,270 individuals to obtain essential legal registration papers such as personal identification cards, birth certificates, family record books, marriage certificates and passports
- Provided legal advice to 222 children, family members and victims of trafficking

TERTIARY SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Who we serve

Blue Dragon’s Tertiary Scholarship Program serves young adults who are highly disadvantaged and can demonstrate a commitment to further study. Most are rural students who would otherwise not be able to afford higher education.

How we work

The program supports the tuition fees and living expenses for the tertiary students. Half is given as a grant and the other half is a loan that students are required to pay back in instalments after graduation. During the scholarship period, a Blue Dragon staff member provides mentoring and assists students to find and apply for part-time work and/or internships. Career preparation workshops are also held, and students are given information to assist them to apply for full-time employment after graduation.

Tertiary Scholarship Program in 2016-2017

• Supported a total of 81 students to pursue tertiary education
• Supported 27 students to graduate from university and colleges throughout Vietnam

Annual Report 2016-2017 | 25
Who we serve
This project serves human trafficking victims from central Vietnam and their communities. After being rescued and repatriated, many survivors find it challenging to reintegrate into their local communities and require transitional accommodation.

How we work
Blue Dragon oversaw the construction of the Sunflower House reintegration centre in Nghe An province. The centre will provide basic services to trafficking survivors such as accommodation, nutrition and social work support to aid reintegration. The construction of the centre is scheduled to be completed in July 2017. In addition, we have provided in-depth training on migrant labour and trafficking to the police, border authorities and Department of Labour, Invalids and Social Affairs (DoLISA) staff in the province.
Highlights of the Year

A 33% growth in total income

A 21% increase in total expenses as a result of program expansion

Financial Audit

Blue Dragon's accounts were audited for the seventh consecutive year by an independent, external auditing firm, Russell Bedford KTC Audit Company Limited. The auditor concluded that Blue Dragon's financial statements for the year ending 30 June 2017 are prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with Blue Dragon's accounting policies.

Blue Dragon Children's Foundation
A global community of supporters fuels the work of Blue Dragon to rescue children in crisis. Their commitment, enthusiasm and trust are priceless. From fundraising to advocating for Blue Dragon, they contribute their time, energy and resources to give life-changing opportunities to free children trapped in slavery and poverty.

Blue Dragon is registered in other countries as

- Blue Dragon Children’s Foundation International (Australia)
- Blue Dragon Children’s Foundation UK
- Blue Dragon Children’s Foundation USA
- Blue Dragon Children’s Trust (New Zealand)

Financial and material support has come from a variety of sources and locations around the world.

Individuals

We have thousands of friends and supporters all around the world who fundraise for us, make personal donations even when times are lean, and who help us spread the word about the plight of disadvantaged children in Vietnam. Many are old friends who continue to support Blue Dragon kids year after year. We also appreciate the visitors and volunteers to Blue Dragon who stay connected. Some donations are small, some are substantial – and all are equally important and appreciated.

Volunteers

Blue Dragon is grateful to all volunteers who support the delivery of our programs. Dedicated volunteers have given their time and shared their expertise with the children of Blue Dragon. They teach, encourage and motivate them. We are also fortunate to have volunteers who provide specialist input to staff, sharing skills on leadership, project planning and public presentations. The work of Blue Dragon is much enriched because of their input.
