MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Every year, when it's time to review Blue Dragon's annual report, I find myself thinking about the immense challenges of the prior twelve months. This year, of course, was no different.

Apart from the incredible work we do in assisting vulnerable youth on the streets of Hanoi and all across Vietnam, we continue to rescue and support women and girls who had been trafficked to China and, increasingly, to Myanmar and Cambodia. In addition, we have expanded our partnerships with authorities in Dien Bien and Ha Giang provinces in order to establish early warning systems to prevent human trafficking in rural Vietnam.

A major achievement over the past twelve months has been our work to ensure housing in some of Vietnam's most impoverished rural communities. With funding provided by Roll'd – an Australia-based Vietnamese restaurant chain – we launched a program to build 100 homes for disadvantaged families. This program will be life changing for the families it reaches, and we extend our heartfelt thanks to the owners and senior managers of Roll'd.

Most excitingly, Blue Dragon has spent the past year working with Vietnamese authorities to move closer to our goal of ending human trafficking in Vietnam within the next ten years. This will be achieved by extending our current programming and garnering increased government buy-in for the successful interventions we have already developed. It's a huge goal but one we are sure can be achieved!

Perhaps the biggest internal change of the year was Blue Dragon founder Michael Brosowski transitioning away from his role as co-CEO and into the new role of Strategic Director where he will retain responsibility for strategy and major fundraising.

In making these changes, we were very pleased to announce the appointment of Vi Do as our new co-CEO alongside Skye Maconachie. Vi spent his youth as a street kid in Hanoi before Blue Dragon found him and offered him support. The immense determination and dedication Vi has shown throughout his life will surely be an asset as he joins Skye at our helm.

These changes, and the growth Blue Dragon has seen over the past 18 years, would not have been possible without Michael's leadership and vision in growing Blue Dragon from a grassroots charity to an internationally recognised aid organisation known for its incredible contributions towards ending human trafficking and protecting children in Vietnam.

Finally, we would like to extend our thanks to our world-wide network of incredibly generous donors and supporters, without whom the amazing work that we do in Vietnam would not be possible.

TONY JACOBS

MESSAGE FROM THE CO-CEOS

Dear friends,

What a big year for Blue Dragon! We faced pandemic lockdowns, helped more victims of human trafficking than ever before, launched new initiatives to prevent human trafficking in Vietnam's most remote and vulnerable communities, and, of course, welcomed Vi as our new co-CEO.

As a Blue Dragon supporter, there's something very important you should know: We couldn't have done any of this without you!

Blue Dragon's friends are important allies to those struggling in Vietnam. You believed in the difference we could make together and gave us the courage to go above and beyond for every child and family during this challenging year.

We are pleased to present you with this annual report which highlights the incredible work that would not have been possible without your support. Thank you for being a part of the Blue Dragon story.

VI DO & SKYE MACONACHIE

ABOUT BLUE DRAGON

Blue Dragon Children's Foundation (Blue Dragon) serves children and young adults in crisis throughout Vietnam: street kids, runaway children, victims of human trafficking, children with disabilities, kids affected by drugs and HIV/AIDS, homeless families, and the rural poor.

Founded by Michael Brosowski and Pham Sy Chung in 2004, we believe that every child deserves exceptional care and a chance to thrive. After rescuing children in need, we reunite them with their families and provide them with the services they need for recovery and growth while advocating for improvements to policy and law.

"All children have the right to be children: to be safe, to attend school, to play, to be treated with respect, to be heard, to be understood and to be loved." - Michael Brosowski

OUR PURPOSE

Blue Dragon's purpose is to provide exceptional care to Vietnamese children and families in crisis while creating long-term change for a better world.

OUR VALUES

Respect, not pity

The children we work with are treated with at least the same respect that we would treat our own sons and daughters, brothers and sisters.

Development, not charity

We work to help children develop fully as they grow, through providing a broad range of experiences and opportunities. Rather than simply provide a handout, we provide a hand-up for those who choose to better their circumstances and themselves.

Empowerment, not dependency

Our role is to provide opportunities for children to pursue as individuals rather than to force our views or values on the children.

Collaboration, not control

Our staff work alongside the children and their families, so that beneficiaries are involved in all stages of our work, rather than simply being recipients of charity.

Massive interventions, not quick-fix solutions

We tackle the problem of poverty from every angle rather than focusing on one obvious cause or effect. Our interventions may take years, as we persist until we are successful.

THE END OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Every year, human trafficking affects tens of millions of people across the globe, yet organisations and governments around the world struggle to cope with the true impacts of modern-day slavery on victims, their families, and their communities.

Blue Dragon has spent the past decade tackling human trafficking head on. This work has yielded impressive results: stamping out human trafficking in some of Vietnam's most affected communities and vastly reducing it in others.

Using what we have learned over the past fifteen years, we now turn our focus towards scaling up this work to reach new areas of Vietnam. In the coming years, we will continue to create and develop new anti-trafficking interventions and showcase them to governments and other organisations so that they can be adopted and scaled.

Our hope is that our successes can be used as a lesson for other countries so that we can, one day, end human trafficking in Vietnam and around the world.

A Singer Finds Her Voice

When Huyen first arrived at the Blue Dragon centre, she struggled to make eye contact, staring only at her feet and speaking in a soft whisper. In addition to the horrific experience of being trafficked into a forced 'marriage', trauma from her childhood — her mother's death and her father's incarceration — had scarred the young girl's mind.

Shortly after her rescue, Huyen contacted Blue Dragon and travelled to Hanoi for a cooking apprenticeship. She was a hard worker, but more impressive were the personal strides she made during the course. After just five months, Huyen was coming out of her shell.

In a self-development session for survivors of human trafficking, Huyen delivered a personal presentation to the audience. Public speaking would have been remarkable enough on its own, but Huyen didn't stop there. Another talent emerged: singing.

Given security and autonomy for the first time in her life, Huyen was able to discover confidence and creativity that had been buried under her trauma. She now takes singing lessons to nurture her musical skills. She's found her voice, and it grows brighter every day.

"My past life did not allow me to sing and live freely," Huyen said, "but now I am turning the page."

Cultivating Curiosity into a Career

Thien is a born tinkerer who has finally been given an outlet for his mechanical ingenuity.

Thien and his two siblings grew up on the outskirts of Hanoi. As the only breadwinner in the family, his mother worked whatever odd jobs she could find. Thien left school at an early age to help his family make ends meet. While he and his mother collected scrap metal to sell to recycling plants, Thien would keep his eyes open for spare parts that he could transform into working contraptions and machines.

In a counselling session about his future career plans, Thien's social workers encouraged him to keep his options open and explore a variety of skills and passions before settling on a final choice. But Thien already knew exactly what he wanted to do – after all, he'd been doing it all his life.

With a scholarship from Blue Dragon and the dream of becoming a mechanic, Thien began studying machine assembly and repair at a Polytechnic Vocational College last year. His curiosity and passion have followed him since he was a child. All he needed was an opportunity to grow his passion into a future career.

BLUE DRAGON AND THE UN'S SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

The UN's 17 Sustainable Development Goals are a collection of objectives created with the goal of bringing peace and prosperity to communities around the globe. Blue Dragon Children's Foundation prides itself on the significant contributions it makes towards achieving these goals.

Blue Dragon's anti-poverty programs are a key element of our strategy to end human trafficking. In 2021–2022, we:

- supported 92 families to build livelihoods and start businesses.
- gave 115 cows, pigs, and goats to rural families.
- provided 89 bicycles for children to ride to school.
- built 31 new homes and renovated 81 homes for low-income families.

COVID-19 created additional hardships for children and families in crisis. Despite the lockdowns, Blue Dragon continued working on urban streets and in rural communities to:

- deliver emergency food packages and financial assistance to 1,827 families.
- deliver 10,500 ready-made meals to street children and homeless people.
- serve 32,864 nutritious meals at our centre and shelters.

Supporting the mental and physical health of trauma survivors is a vital part of Blue Dragon's mission. Our sports programs create healthy bodies and a sense of belonging. In 2021–2022, we:

- provided counselling to 179 trafficking survivors.
- hosted 129 football matches for street kids and children in need.
- organised 85 hip-hop classes, 38 art lessons, and 10 circus workshops for disadvantaged youth.
- celebrated the 37 Blue Dragon staff and children and 300+ supporters who walked a total 10,000 kms for the Blue Dragon Marathon Walk.
- organised a weekly running club for 71 disadvantaged youth.

Helping children stay in school is essential to breaking the cycle of poverty and ending human trafficking. In 2021–2022, Blue Dragon:

- provided books, school supplies, and computers to 1,055 disadvantaged children.
- paid school tuition for 408 children from low-income households.
- celebrated the university graduations of 23 recipients of Blue Dragon Tertiary Scholarships.

Poverty does not treat boys and girls equally. Most victims of human trafficking are girls and women. We know that staying in school protects against trafficking, and we also know that girls living in vulnerable communities leave school 3 years earlier than boys. In 2021–2022, Blue Dragon:

- rescued 74 girls and 1 boy from trafficking and supported an additional 183 females and 9 males who were repatriated by the police.
- provided direct support to 404 girls so that they could stay in school.
- maintained a staff ratio of 62% female to 38% male across our organisation.

Through our education programs, Blue Dragon helps students train and find work that prepares them for a better future. In 2021–2022, we:

- helped 22 survivors of trafficking find work and an additional 27 access vocational training.
- assisted 23 of our graduating university students in successfully entering the workforce.
- mentored 11 social work students through our internship program.
- employed 12% of our staff from among former Blue Dragon beneficiaries and relatives of our current beneficiaries.

Remote, rural, ethnic communities are especially vulnerable to human trafficking. The mountainous regions of Vietnam are very beautiful, but they are also hard to farm profitably and sustainably, making them prime targets for traffickers. In 2021–2022, Blue Dragon:

- worked in 68 highly disadvantaged communes in 8 rural districts, including 6 border communities.
- based local staff teams in 3 of Vietnam's most vulnerable provinces, including 2 mountainous provinces where nearly 100% of the beneficiaries are people from ethnic minority groups.

Our programs make Vietnam a safer and healthier place to live. In 2021–2022, we:

- had staff patrol the streets of Hanoi every night to connect with children sleeping rough.
- approached 199 street kids, provided them with holistic support, and helped 70 of these children reunite with their families.
- ensured around-the-clock availability to respond to requests for help from victims of trafficking.

A better future is a more sustainable future, and Blue Dragon models this value across the organisation. In 2021 – 2022, we:

- composted food scraps for use in our rooftop garden.
- used our gardens to teach children about sustainability.
- began eliminating single-use plastics from our programs.

Addressing climate change is a responsibility that Blue Dragon takes seriously. In 2021–2022, we:

- implemented a sustainability policy which requires staff to assess the environmental impact of their actions.
- grew a wide range of fruit, farmed 2,234kg of vegetables without the use of chemicals, and produced 4,360 eggs through free-range farming.
- used biodegradable packaging for our food distribution initiatives during COVID-19 lockdowns.
- installed and used solar electricity in two project areas.

Blue Dragon works hard to achieve justice for victims of human trafficking and abuse. In 2021 - 2022, we:

- represented 60 survivors of human trafficking and sexual abuse in 13 court cases, resulting in the imprisonment of 65 traffickers and perpetrators.
- ran 10 training sessions for Women's Unions, local police, and public officials in remote communities.
- worked with the central government to commence a review of the Law on Human Trafficking.
- provided legal advice and assistance to 169 children.

Blue Dragon collaborates with organisations around the world. We believe that ending human trafficking is a collaborative process and we share our data and expertise wherever it can be useful. In 2021–2022, we:

- worked with government partners in 68 communes across 8 rural districts.
- provided interviews for 11 podcasts and 8 radio and television programs.
- were featured in 53 online and print news articles and 19 online feature articles.
- built partnerships with 94 schools and 184 businesses.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

WEBINAR: IS IT POSSIBLE TO END HUMAN TRAFFICKING?

During our 15+ years of combatting human trafficking, Blue Dragon has been asking the question: What would it take to end it completely? In a webinar held in April 2022, we explored this question in detail and shared our strategy to achieve this vision.

REPORT: WHAT WE KNOW ABOUT HUMAN TRAFFICKERS IN VIETNAM

Blue Dragon's anti-trafficking experts Luong Le and Dr Caitlin Wyndham analyse traffickers and the crime of human trafficking in Vietnam in their article for "Anti-trafficking Review". You can read the report here.
